No. 40 Series—The "Gold Medal" standard of design demands comfort, sturdiness and "portability" in every product. These principles have been carried out to a high degree in this type of feather-weight chairs. Their lightness belies the sturdiness built into them. They completely open or fold instantly. In lacquers as illustrated above, they may be secured in any frame and cover combinations shown and priced in Color Swatch No. 4. We urge you to restrict your selections to the combinations illustrated as they have been selected to secure the utmost in color harmony.

A—4 to a carton 36 lbs.
F—4 to a carton 78 lbs.
C—3 to a carton 42 lbs.

The strength and "portability" of the 1933 reclining chairs is secured by laboratory and time tested designs made possible by the use of Wisconsin air-dried hardwood instead of by sheer weight of materials commonly used.

The floating arm, an exclusive (protected) "Gold Medal" feature, is a new contribution to the comfort of these reclining chairs and will be appreciated by those who, in the past, have experienced the inconveniences of the old type of reclining chair.
